

WAR DOGS IN EUROPE ALL SNARLING

Austria Officially Opens War on Serbia—Passports to Serb Minister

BUT OCCUPATION OF BELGRADE IS DELAYED

Germany Calls on Powers to Let the War Be Localized to Disputing Nations

VIENNA, July 27.—The government has seized all the railroads and telegraph lines. Troops are moving everywhere and business is practically suspended. Virtual martial law prevails. The Serbians today dynamited a bridge across the Sava near Semlin.

Reports that the Serbs fired on an Austrian troop boat yesterday were confirmed today. Rumors were current that fighting today at the mouth of the river Temes near Belgrade, but were not confirmed.

The sending of his passport to the Serb Minister, M. Jovanovich, by the Austrian foreign office yesterday is deemed equivalent to a declaration of war.

It is believed that there will be no formal declaration of war, as Serbia never subscribed to The Hague convention.

Austrian Army Mobilizing
BELGRADE, July 27.—The army is mobilizing, and Crown Prince Alexander will be in command. The Austrians are massing at Semlin. Belgrade is almost deserted. It is said 90,000 citizens have fled in the belief that the Austrian army is already on the march. The capital is unfortified. King Peter and the soldiery are at Kragujevac.

Russia Calls to Colors
ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—Reports persist that the reserves have been called to the colors. A strict censorship prevails. All general strikers who have rioted through Russia in the past week, voted yesterday to return to work in order not to embarrass the government's foreign policy in the present emergency.

War Seems Inevitable
WASHINGTON, July 27.—Official dispatches today quoted the Russian war minister as saying that war between Austria and Russia is inevitable. The same sources said that complete Russian mobilization had been ordered. The czar today was holding a special ministerial council.

France Prepares for War
PARIS, July 27.—The French reservists have been ordered to be in readiness to mobilize on short notice. The fleet is concentrating today at Toulon.

A wireless message was received today from the French warship Jean Bart, on which President Poincare is hurrying home from Stockholm to deal with the war situation. It was announced that he would reach Dunkirk on Wednesday.

Business and Pleasure Halted
BERLIN, July 27.—Carlsbad and other German and Austrian pleasure and health resorts are practically deserted. Industries are suspended on account of the lack of men because of mobilization orders. Germans abroad are hurrying home to join their regiments.

Heavy runs started today on the savings banks in Berlin, Danzig, Zagarbrücken and elsewhere. Two hundred were waiting at dawn to withdraw their deposits in the municipal savings bank here. The Bourses at Berlin, Vienna and Budapest have suspended.

Turkey Neutral—Greece for Serbia
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—Turkey issued today an announcement of neutrality in the impending war between Austria and Serbia. The Greek minister here said Greece would send one hundred thousand troops to aid Serbia in the event of war.

Montenegro to Aid Serbia
CETTINJE, July 27.—The Montenegrin army is mobilizing today to aid Serbia in her impending struggle with Austria.

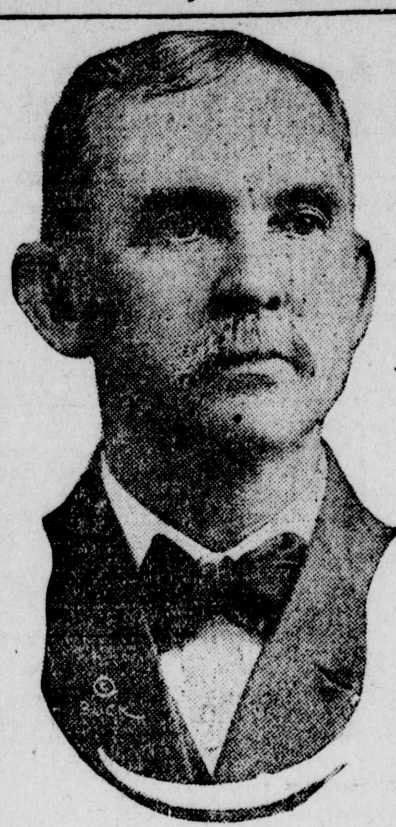

Austria Waits on Powers
The Austrian troops will not occupy Belgrade today. The delay is general in diplomatic circles here as indicating that Austria intends giving very much longer time in her efforts to localize the threatened war. The powers are awaiting, an assurance from Russia that it will not interfere. The indications were today that Russia will refuse to give such an assurance. The first British fleet of twenty-eight battleships is coaling today at a portland. The officers today confidently expected early orders to clear for the North Sea.

Minister Invites "Swiss Navy" to America

George A. Stovall, minister to Switzerland, has just started the State Department. Secretary Bryan and all Washington have learned that Minister Stovall recently presented to the foreign office of the Swiss government a courteous invitation for its "navy" to take part in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

The foreign office of the mountain republic was amazed at the invitation to the naval display but assuming that the American minister knew there was no such thing as a Swiss navy, prepared to name a special envoy to represent Switzerland, simply in his own personality. It would have forgotten the incident, but the State Department, having learned of Mr. Stovall's invitation, directed him to withdraw it on the ground that it was intended only for maritime powers. Mr. Stovall did this in a formal letter.

PRICES OF MEAT WILL GET JOLT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 27.—Good corned native steers at 15 cents a pound are an assured fact for today at Wallabout Market, Brooklyn. This ought to give a bit of a jolt to the local branch of the beef trust and make it possible for the housewife to get meat for the family at lower prices.

The total beef arrivals during the week approximated 73,000 quarters, or 12,775,000 pounds. This is contrasted with a total of 14,179 quarters the previous week.

NEWS THAT CHEERS

The composite condition of all crops in the United States—as reported by the Department of Agriculture—indicates a 9 1/2 per cent improvement over last year.

In wheat alone the increase in the farmers' income will be one hundred million dollars. With this "velvet money" American farmers could buy every fourth automobile sold in the country. (We spend yearly four hundred millions for motor cars.) And the wheat crop represents but 15 per cent of the farmers' total income.

This is the news that cheers.

NECK IS BROKEN IN FALL OFF PIER

George Cornell of Santa Ana Met Death at Newport Beach

SCALPED BY INDIANS WHEN A SMALL BOY

While Fishing Yesterday He Lost Balance and Went Into Water

Falling off the end of the Newport Beach pier yesterday morning, George Cornell of Santa Ana was killed by the breaking of his neck. Cornell was seen struggling feebly as boatmen rowed toward him. He was taken into a boat a few minutes after he fell, but was dead when he was lifted from the water.

Cornell lived at 1124 West Fourth street with his wife, to whom he was married in Santa Ana a few years ago. He came to Santa Ana eight years ago from Tipton, Ia., where he lived many years.

Cornell's early history was interesting. When a boy of 16 years he was in a party of people in the Black Hills. The party was attacked by Indians, and everyone in it was killed except Cornell. He was scalped, and was left for dead. At Tipton he was familiarly known as "Scalper Jack." In Santa Ana many of his friends had jokingly nicknamed him "Dobe." He was 57 years old.

He went to Newport Beach on Saturday. Yesterday morning about day-light he got a fishing pole out from under a house occupied by the Luxembourg brothers, and went out on the pier to fish. He seated himself at a point only a couple of feet from where George Hoenschel, a real estate agent of Santa Ana, sat fishing.

Hoenschel told Coroner Winbigger that Cornell had drawn the pole in, and was sitting with his back against a pile that projected above the level of the top of the pier. The wharf swayed, and the pier moved considerably. Cornell's back slipped from the pile, and the man went off backward. He went so suddenly that Hoenschel had no chance to help him. Cornell grabbed wildly, and one hand caught in Hoenschel's necktie, the lower end of which was jerked loose from the clasp.

Cornell fell into the water without an outcry. Hoenschel and others who were fishing on the wharf called out to G. G. Shoemaker, Brown and others who were in boats under the pier getting mussels off the piles. The boats went out immediately. Shoemaker's boat came near the man first, and a grabhook was used to draw the floating body to the boat.

A physician was called, and he stated that Cornell's neck was broken, and that there was no use using the pulmotor, which was brought to the place from Balboa and which is designed as an aid to resuscitating persons near death from drowning. It is supposed that when Cornell fell his head struck one of the old submerged piles at the end of the wharf, or that he was thrown against a pile by the water. His nose shows a bruise.

The body was brought to Santa Ana by the coroner. It will be taken to Los Angeles for cremation at the Evergreen Cemetery, where funeral services will be held.

U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT CELEBRATES FOUNDING

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Today is the 125th anniversary of the founding of the State Department, July 27, 1789, when President George Washington signed an act creating the "Department of Foreign Affairs."

IRELAND IS FEARED

King's Own Borderers' Fatal Shots Into Home Rule Mob May Start Blaze

DUBLIN DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS

Four Were Killed and Eighty Wounded in Disorders of Yesterday

LONDON, July 27.—Fearing actual war in Ireland as a result of yesterday's clash in Dublin when the King's Own Borderers fired into a Home Rule mob, killing four and wounding eighty, Premier Asquith is in personal charge of the War Office today.

Dublin appeared peaceful today, according to the dispatches, although it is feared that trouble is brewing.

Irish Secretary Birrell told the House of Commons today that the Dublin commissioner of police had been suspended pending official inquiry on the theory that he was responsible for the order calling out the troops.

He said that the commissioner's story was that the soldiers, exasperated by the people's hostility, fired without orders.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin tonight demanded the withdrawal from the city of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, who fired on the Home Rule crowd yesterday. The indications were that the request will be complied with.

DUBLIN, July 27.—Three men and one woman are dead and more than sixty persons are in the hospital wounded as a result of a battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers firing into a mob in the streets of Dublin yesterday afternoon. Seven of the wounded are expected to die. Among them are three women and a boy.

The affray came as a consequence of a gun-running exploit of the Nationalist Volunteers, who were being aided by a mob composed largely of women and youths. A consignment of rifles said to number 10,000 was landed Saturday night at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The Nationalist Volunteers cut the telegraph wires and stopped travel on the Dublin roads, and according to reports, sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition, in motor cars.

A battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers was ordered to capture the arms yesterday afternoon when the authorities heard the volunteers were bringing them into the city. A mob collected and began an attack with bottles and stones, injuring several soldiers. A scattered fusillade from the battalion wounded many, four of these dying later. Seven others were thought fatally hurt.

$34,000,000 FOR THE MOVING OF CROPS

Huge Sum to Be Deposited by U. S. Treasury in National Banks of Country

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Money from the federal treasury will be deposited in national banks throughout the country again this fall to facilitate the movement of crops and promote business generally.

Secretary McAdoo announced last night that he would put out over the country approximately $34,000,000, and that he stood ready to increase the amount to any extent necessary to meet the country's needs.

The secretary's estimate of what will be needed is based upon replies from 5000 national banks to a recent Treasury Department circular, asking whether any unusual demand for money was expected this year, and for what purposes.

Last year the department inaugurated the custom of distributing funds in the crop-handling centers, depositing about $35,000,000 of the $50,000,000 Secretary McAdoo had decided to use for the purpose.

BUBONIC PLAGUE INCREASE

ENGLAND AND GERMANY LABORING FOR PEACE

England Proposes Mediation Conference ---Germany Would Localize War to Disputing Nations

LONDON, July 27.—Foreign Minister Earl Grey officially announced today that France, Italy, and Germany had been invited by England to participate in an ambassadorial mediation effort to settle the Servo-Austrian dispute. He said: "England will remain neutral as long as the threatened conflict is confined to Austria and Serbia. The moment another power becomes involved, however, the position of this nation will be critical."

Italy accepted England's invitation tonight.

England Also Busy for Peace
LONDON, July 27.—The British government is making frantic diplomatic efforts today to avert a European war. King George cancelled his engagement to attend the Goodwood races, and is remaining at Buckingham Palace in order to be in constant touch with the situation. Foreign Minister Earl Grey is in continuous communication with the British ambassadors in Paris, Berlin and Rome. These diplomats believed that no step had yet been taken that would render arbitration impossible.

Strict censorship at Vienna, Belgrade and St. Petersburg, the three capitals from where the most important news is expected to emanate, prevented free communication. It is known, however, that Russia is remaining firm in her stand against an Austrian invasion of Serbia.

Kaiser May Avert War
BERLIN, July 27.—A conference on which may depend the peace of Europe is in progress at Potsdam today. Messages from various capitals indicate that the Kaiser alone, if any one, can avert a continental war. The Kaiser arrived by special train from Kiel, and was met at the station by the Crown Prince and his cabinet. Thousands of subjects greeted him.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—That General Carranza had officially received Admiral Mayo and other American naval officers, was contained in a dispatch sent today to the State Department. This forecasted the opening of the Carranza-Carbarjal negotiations at Saltillo this week.

Boalt Affairs to Be Made Public
WASHINGTON, July 27.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today that he will send to the Senate and give out for publication tomorrow the full report of the Navy Board of Inquiry's investigation of the story told by Frederick L. Boalt, a Newspaper Enterprise Association Mexican correspondent, to the effect that Ensign Richardson of the navy told him that he practiced the "Law of flight" at the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

Wilson denied reports that the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee had decided to sidetrack all of Secretary of State Bryan's peace treaties including that of Nicaragua and Colombia. He said he had not been informed regarding such action, and does not believe it is contemplated. He will use his influence to get early action on the treaties.

Here's a Suggestion for the M. and M. Association

"Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines; for our vines have tender grapes."

The question as to what can be done to prevent so much Santa Ana trade going to Los Angeles and induce more country people to trade in Santa Ana is one frequently under discussion among business men.

Probably there is no one great big thing that could, would or should be done to that end, but unquestionably there are many little things that could be done to advantage.

One of these would be to install an ornamental lighting system throughout the business district. The city and the owners of business property owe it to the business men to do this and do it at once. The more attractive the town is made, the more pleased will it be and proud of it and loyal to it will its own people be, and the oftener will those of the surrounding country visit it.

And here's another suggestion—one of "the little foxes that spoil the (business) vine."

From figures gathered by the Register, it appears that between $400 and $500 a month of Santa Ana money goes to Los Angeles for bread. For this, the Santa Ana

TRIAL WEARS ON MADAME CAILLAUX

Stimulants Needed to Prevent Collapse Before Going Into Courtroom

MEDICAL CONTROVERSY STARTED BY DR. DOYEN

Caillaux Accuses Playwright Bernstein of Being Army Deserter

PARIS, July 27.—Madame Caillaux was near a collapse when her trial on the charge of the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of Le Figaro, was resumed today. Stimulants were administered to her hypodermically before she could enter the courtroom.

Reports are current that the jurors have received anonymous letters threatening their death if the verdict should be guilty.

Dr. Eugene Doyen, the famous surgeon, testified that Calmette's wounds should not have been fatal, but that proper treatment would have saved his life. Doyen is extremely unorthodox, however, and it is certain his testimony will start a medical controversy.

A duel between Joseph Caillaux, husband of the defendant, and Henry Bernstein, the playwright, is expected as an outcome of the trial. While testifying last week Bernstein incurred Caillaux's displeasure. Today while amplifying his previous testimony, Caillaux referred casually but evidently intentionally to Bernstein as a deserter from the army. Bernstein leaped to his feet with an angry retort. This Caillaux ignored. A challenge to fight is believed certain. When Caillaux concluded, Bernstein insisted on being heard. His testimony was not pertinent to the case. It consisted of a bitter arraignment of Caillaux's political record and a denial of the latter's charge. The Caillaux partisans hissed constantly. The disorder finally reached such a point that the presiding judge ordered the courtroom cleared.

ENCOURAGES KILLING OF FLIES IN BAYONNE

BAYONNE, N. J., July 27.—The children of Bayonne have killed two barrels of flies in the last thirty-six hours. And as a result thirteen hundred boys and girls saw the Bijou Theater's movie show free yesterday.

Manager James Brennan of the theater, after flies had spoiled his dinner in a local restaurant, offered tickets to each child who would bring in the corpses of fifty flies. Brennan had to turn away three hundred children because the theater had not the space to hold them.

SENATE HOSTILE TO M'REYNOLDS

Would Fight Appointment to U. S. Supreme Bench as Lurton's Successor

WASHINGTON, July 27.—A fight in the Senate, more bitter even than the struggle over the nomination of Thomas D. Jones to the federal reserve board, will develop in case the President sends in the name of Attorney General McReynolds for the place on the United States Supreme Court bench, made vacant by the death of Associate Justice Lurton.

At present the attorney general seems to be leading those under consideration. His course in the Interstate Commerce Commission inquiry into the New Haven and his lack of activity in white slave cases won him hostility in the Senate.

MARTIN BUILDS U. S. WAR PLANES

Government is Using Aeroplanes Built by Santa Ana Aviator

Glenn Martin, the Santa Ana aviator, is as busy as a hen with seventeen chickens. He is building aeroplanes for the government, and doing enough war speculation to be called colonel. He stopped off in Santa Ana Saturday night until Sunday afternoon.

Martin was traveling by train. That is worth mentioning. If any other Santa Ana man should go on a trip through the country one would expect it to be said that they were going by train or auto. With Martin travel by train and auto between Los Angeles and San Diego is getting to be a novelty. He generally goes by air line about 5000 feet above earth.

He took a complete machine built in his factory in Los Angeles to San Diego. He flew it down and turned it over to Uncle Sam's fliers, and started them off on the right road to its proper manipulation in peace as well as in war.

That was one of four fine war-planes ordered from Martin by the government. Two others will be delivered in about three weeks. Martin has been so busy with the manufacturing end and the negotiations with the army officers at San Diego that he has not had time for a real joy-ride since he came down to Santa Ana the time he made a world's record for altitude with two passengers. Speaking of a hen with seventeen chickens—well, Martin has got just about that many aeroplanes either recently built, in storage in his hangar at Griffith Park or in process of being built or soon to be built at his factory.

The machine that Martin builds now bears no resemblance to the thing he put together in Santa Ana three years ago and in which he learned to fly. He says he would not go up in that machine now for $1000. At the time he flew in it he didn't know what a weak vessel it really was.

MARRIED TWICE WITHIN A WEEK

Los Angeles Couple Got License
Here and Used it in Los Angeles

Los Angeles Times: The honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. George Riley, which they are spending quietly and happily with the bride's mother, No. 1611 Bonnie Brae street, was interrupted yesterday afternoon when the young couple were notified that the ceremony will have to be performed again before the knot will be tied hard and fast in the eyes of the law.

The bride was Lillian Carlson who has been a resident of Los Angeles for several months. Mr. Riley has lived here nearly a year. The young people, with the consent of the bride's mother, sought to play a joke on their friends by getting married quietly so they went to Santa Ana and secured a marriage license issued by the Orange County Clerk.

Last Monday they were married by Rev. E. K. Bransford, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church in the presence of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. Farnham, and Edward Carroll. Mr. Bransford did not notice that the license was issued in Orange county and the young people did not know that it made any difference.

Yesterday Mr. Bransford was informed by County Recorder J. M. Backs of Orange County that the couple will have to be married again before they are legally tied. Mr. Bransford called on Mr. and Mrs. Riley yesterday afternoon and it was arranged to procure a new license after which the ceremony will be again performed by Mr. Bransford and the honeymoon continued.

POLICE ARE TOLD ABOUT A SKIN GAME WORKED BY BILL

A report has been received at City Marshal Jernigan's office to the effect that a new kind of a check game has been worked in Santa Ana by a man named "Bill." There are plenty of people who are known to their friends as Bill, but this Bill is not as honest as the rest of them, as the story told the police indicates.

This particular Bill is said to have borrowed money from acquaintances on a promise to return it soon. J. C. Marshall of East Washington avenue thinks he is out $2. The report received by the police is that Bill—last name unknown to the police—went to Marshall and showed him a check made out to him. He did not ask Marshall to cash the check. He merely asked Marshall to loan him $2 until he could get the check cashed. Marshall made the loan. Bill has not returned the $2. It may be that Bill is still trying to cash the check, and, again, may be he has not tried.

The police are asked to be on the lookout for this Bill.

BUILDS TANK FOR STORAGE

Standard Oil Company Has Made No Deal for Sale of its Gas

FULLERTON, July 27.—The Standard Oil Company is building ten 55,000-barrel storage tanks in the Coyote Hills field, as well as ten at El Segundo, to take care of the tremendous production in the Fullerton field. Five of the field tanks will be on the Murphy and five on the Emery lease. The total capacity of the tanks here and at El Segundo will exceed 1,000,000 barrels.

The Standard's famous gusher well on the Emery lease, which has now been producing for about nine months, is still doing close to 5000 barrels daily. The total amount of oil produced since the well started flowing is now about 2,000,000 barrels, valued at nearly $1,000,000, based on the field price, and worth to the Standard, when refined, probably three times as much.

Up to the present time the Standard has not made a deal to sell the gas from the great "gasser" northwest of Fullerton. It has received a number of propositions from various cities and the entire output may be disposed of in the near future. At present the gas is burned.

The company is drilling wells on the Emery and Murphy leases and also within the city limits of Fullerton, and although its policy is to curtail new production now, will probably bring in one or two soon.

DANGEROUS AND DISGUSTING

Complaint is made—and assuredly it is justified—about drunken men being allowed to ride on the cars between Santa Ana and “the beach towns.” Of course they usually get on at the beach towns—more especially and more specifically Newport and Balboa. The complaint might justly be made more general, to include Los Angeles and even Santa Ana as among the places where “drunks” board the cars.

But the main point is that “drunks” are nuisances and worse—they constitute a menace, they are dangerous as well as disgusting, and should not be permitted to ride on street cars anywhere or at any time.

We believe the law will fully protect the railroad company and its employees in refusing to allow drunken men to board the cars or in putting them off when found aboard.

READING THE MURDER MYSTERY STORIES

This newspaper remarked the other day on publicity as a deterrent to crime. Another problem is the effect on the public mind of the constant crime stories in the newspapers.

Booth Tarkington, on being interviewed at a New England summer resort, expressed the opinion that the people of that section are devoting an inordinate amount of time to reading about recent murder mysteries. Probably the same could be said of the newspaper readers elsewhere.

Mr. Tarkington felt that it was not time well spent. True, it diverts the public mind from the larger interests of government and social progress.

A persistent reader of murder mystery cases may acquire a certain amateur experience in crime. He becomes familiar with detective methods. It may be said that this gives one experience of human nature. But this information deals largely with morbid types of personality. It is not useful in daily life.

Still, if the newspapers did not print murder stories, people would draw similar tales from the libraries or buy them at bookstalls. The fictional writer about crime is apt to confuse moral judgments.

Yellow newspapers also distort the true significance of crime. If they must deal with the dark side of human nature, they should at least tell the truth and strip the gloss from passion. Often they apologize for it or make it alluring.

Inordinate interest in crime is morbid. But these sensational and dramatic crimes often convey a great deal of information as to public morals. They are the sensational results flowing from false standards of life. They reveal unwholesome conditions, that might long pass unnoticed did they not break out in some startling climax. The newspaper that simply tells the plain truth about these tragedies, and lets the facts speak for themselves and point their own moral, performs a service that has value.

THE INDOORS WORKER AND HEALTH

The somewhat frequent indispositions to which President Wilson is subject are noted with regret and some uneasiness. He has been more or less upset several times during the past eight months. So slight an exposure as lower temperature encountered in an automobile ride has just laid him up for a day or two.

The president's experiences are very like those that most men of sedentary habits have to meet. It is true that a president has to encounter an extraordinary nervous strain. Yet the physical conditions of his work, like ventilation, etc., must be exceptionally favorable.

Most men give slight attention to measures of health preservation. They would not hesitate to work extra hours a day if they saw some addition to their income in it. But ten minutes a day for simple gymnastics that might greatly increase their working capacity are impossible.

If it pays Mr. Wilson, with the tremendous pressure on his time, to give a half hour or more a day to a physical culture trainer, surely it would pay the ordinary man to devote a little time daily to physical exercise.

Few people today are good walkers. Country people take pride in their horses or motor cars. They often look down on people who enjoy tramping, as to be pitied for their inability to own horse flesh. City people usually look at a mile walk as prohibitive. A whole tribe of lawn mowers and gardeners springs up in any large town, to do the work formerly done by householders.

Probably the hours President Wilson has spent golfing have been more effective than all that his trainer has been able to do. Not every one can join a golf club or enter gymnasium classes. But every one can walk or take simple calisthenics. Nor is it necessary to buy a handsome system of painted chest weights either.

MONACO PLANS FOR UNIQUE EXHIBIT AT 1915 EXPOSITION

A feature of the display will be that of deep sea dredging for scientific purposes, of which the prince has been a patron for years.

Roumania also signified intention to exhibit.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FREDERICKS' MEETING IN SAN FRANCISCO

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Captain John D. Fredericks, the anointed candidate of the Los Angeles Times for governor, made his first campaign appearance in San Francisco last night before an audience of close to 5000 people.

It was fully 1500 more than Keessling drew in the same hall two nights before, and Fredericks held his crowd much better, not more than a hundred or two leaving while he talked.

Fredericks was given a good reception, but made the same address he has delivered in a score of towns, and most of his stuff had preceded him in the public prints. But it wasn't the Fredericks talk that caused a stir last night.

It was the speech of Fredericks' friend, Joe Scott of Los Angeles, that gave the audience a shock of surprise. Apparently Fredericks has whooped and got him into the race for governor, will have to be slapped on the wrist—for effect.

So Scott, when Fredericks had finished, got up to “repudiate” Otis. And Fredericks sat by smiling and silently assenting. The suspicion arose that Scott and Fredericks had talked it over before the meeting, and that Fredericks was willing to let Scott do the “repudiating” so the Otis candidate could square himself with his Union-hating sponsor later with avowals that Scott had run riot with his tongue and did not have the Fredericks' permission.

Scott despises all newspaper proprietors. He began: “There is not a more conscienceless being than a newspaper proprietor. The average newspaper proprietor has the instinct of a blackmailer and the intrigue of a footpad.”

“If a man wants a political place that is really worth while he should invite the opposition of the Los Angeles Times. Captain Fredericks has a great big handicap in that he has the support of the Times.”

Scott said a lot more in the same vein to make it appear that Fredericks was too honorable to be affiliated with a burden like Otis, and really wouldn't have the Times' support—if he could get away from it without losing any votes.

Fredericks' friend Scott made it plain that the Otis candidate has no pride of political ancestry.

“This man is the sole representative of the old Republican principles,” said Scott, jerking his thumb at Fredericks and ignoring the laugh of those who thought the remark was more of a knock than a boost. Like the Keessling rally, and in spite of Fredericks' preliminary statement that he did not believe in abuse, the main drift of the meeting was hammering of Governor Johnson. Like every other faction the Fredericks men fear that Governor Johnson is the rock past which they cannot steer their rickety ship of hope.

“Hiram Johnson is a man of remarkable power and ability and you can't gainsay it, but he wants to put the Republican party out of business and that is eternally against him,” was Scott's horrible indictment of the governor.

Fredericks sprinkled a lot of funny stories through his speech to keep his audience in good humor. He talked much about pure food laws, child labor laws and social legislation such as every political party favors, but he shied away from discussing the Railroad Commission, the Board of Control, the workmen's compensation law, the initiative, referendum and recall, vital labor laws and pretty nearly all vital issues. His address was pleasantly innocuous. There was not a line about what Fredericks would do as governor.

He condemned the Democratic tariff, but before he did so saved a thousand or more Democrats present with soft words.

“I love all California Democrats. They are different from the Democrats of other states,” he cooed as he drew the whole Democratic vote to his heart.

It wasn't Governor Johnson who put the Southern Pacific political machine out of politics, according to the Fredericks view. It was the legislature of 1909 which stopped the giving of passes to politicians that robbed the S. P. machine of its power and put it on the skids, declared Fredericks.

“The popular idea of reform is a fallacy, an absolute fallacy. There is no value in reform. It is growth and development that count,” were some of Fredericks' remarks that carried the old standpat ring.

FOUR OUT OF FIVE OF THE SOCIALIST MEASURES FAIL

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—The farmers' fight against dangerous legislation to be submitted at the November election has been simplified by the important announcement made by Thomas W. Williams, state secretary of the Socialist party, that the Socialists would be unable to complete their initiative petitions for the “Minimum Wage Law,” which, therefore, will not go on the ballot.

Three others of the five proposed laws for which the Socialists were circulating initiative petitions also will fail of sufficient signatures to get on the November ballot. These are the “Tax Exemption Law,” removing any taxes from $1000 value of any dwelling occupied by its owner and raising the personal property exemption from $100 to $200; the so-called “Right to Work Law,” which provided for a State Bureau of Industry that would either give employment or pay $250 per day to any person who proved that he or she had made a reasonable effort and had been unable to secure work; and the “Right to Vote Law,” which arranged a system for voting by mail, so that transients or itinerant workers could cast their ballots in any locality.

The “Universal Eight-Hour Law” is the only one of the five Socialist measures to succeed, but the initiative petition for it has already been filed and approved. The “Minimum Wage Law,” second in importance, has secured some twenty thousand signatures to its petition, but thirty-one thousand more necessary and these cannot be secured before the last date.

August 4. This law as drafted provided a minimum wage of $2.50 per day for any person over 18 years of age and $1.50 per day for any under 18. The Socialists announced today, however, that they will continue getting signatures for the other laws, so they may be submitted at a general election in 1916.

The “Sunday Rest Law,” by which it is proposed to force almost every class of workers to cease work on the Sabbath, unless religious beliefs compel them to select some other day, it is stated, may yet land on the November ballot through initiative petitions still in circulation. This measure is said to have been originally drawn by union barbers, who wish to close all barber shops on Sundays through drastic penal statute.

Farmers and fruit growers all over California are organizing strenuous opposition to the eight-hour law, which they urge would be absolutely ruinous to agriculture and a menace to the general prosperity of California, inasmuch as it contains absolutely no exemptions to allow for weather conditions and the necessities of harvesting ripe crops, nor for any other such contingencies. No other state has ever tried such a drastic law, which inflicts a maximum penalty of ninety days in jail and a $500 fine upon any employer PERMITTING more than eight hours' work in one day or more than forty-eight hours in one week. The law includes all women, even household helpers, trained nurses and others expressly exempt from the women's eight-hour law now in force.

WE'RE ALL GOING TO THE PICNIC, HURRAH, HURRAH!

Hello, Iowans, attention!

The former residents of the state of Iowa may all consider this their personal invitation to attend the great annual summer picnic which will be held on a day, Saturday, August 8, 1914, at Long Beach, in beautiful Bixby Park. All the usual plans for a jolly good time will be carried out and several new features added. The county registration, coffee treat to all who buy the badge, the basket dinner on the grass, a brief program, and a happy social reunion will be the main features. As a special feature several prizes will be offered and the friendly competition will add to the general pleasure. Most of the prizes will be announced later, but among them will be an order for a nice amount on Bullock's big department store, a six months' subscription for the Los Angeles Tribune, and same for the Express, and four special prizes offered by the Long Beach “Press” for Long Beach competitors only.

Among the chances for prizes the following will be listed:

A prize for the oldest person at the picnic—born in Iowa.

A prize for the youngest child at the picnic—born in Iowa.

A prize for the married couple, natives, whose combined ages number most years.

As to railway service:

If a sufficient number of people desire to attend from any given or central point special through service can probably be secured for the going trip. Take it up with your electric railway people. Special steam railway service may be arranged from some points to advantage. All those who take the Long Beach electric cars at Sixth and Main, Los Angeles, will go to the rear of the depot. If you take a special Iowa picnic car it will go direct to the Bixby Park, but if you take a regular car then get a transfer when you pay your fare and change at American and Ocean avenues, Long Beach, for the park. Conductors will be instructed to supply transfers.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur is president of the Iowa Association of Southern California, which is in charge of the picnic.

Judge Fred H. Taft is the vice president. The Iowa Association of Long Beach, of which J. G. Spielman is president, is taking active interest in the details and will have much of the committee work in hand. It is hoped that this will be the best and largest summer picnic yet held. The park is a most attractive place for a picnic, with its shade and grass, adds charm to the whole affair. Iowans from all over our Southland will be most heartily welcomed and are urged to pass the word on to others.

Further information may be secured from the secretary, C. H. Parsons, 953 West Seventh street, Los Angeles.

FARM LIFE COMMISSION IN ANNUAL MEETING

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 27.—The Texas Farm Life Commission held its annual meeting here today. The agricultural products of Texas farms are yearly the largest of any state, but home life conditions of the farms are admittedly discouraging and are the cause of the drift of farmers' sons and daughters to the cities. The Texas Farm Life Commission was appointed by Governor Colquitt under an act of the legislature several years ago. The commission's studies of conditions and recommendations for improvement have been a factor in the current agitation for better marketing, cotton warehouses and state aid.

HAD SEVENTY GUESTS

Gill Ranch at Westminster
Scene of Social Pleasure
Yesterday

Many people will be interested in a social event that took place Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. James Gill at their ranch at Westminster had the pleasure, assisted by their son and daughter, Mr. Albert Gill and Mrs. Florrie Hawkswell, of entertaining nearly seventy of their friends from Santa Ana, Yorba Linda, Los Angeles and surrounding districts. The occasion was the tenth anniversary of their arrival in California from Yorkshire, England.

American and British flags were used to decorate, and even the horses did honor to the occasion by having tiny flags of both nations attached to their bridles.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. C. W. Kimball was the recipient of a delightful surprise on her birthday yesterday, when she was the honoree at a noonday repast at the home of Mrs. L. R. Mayfield, 419 French street. Pink Maman Cochet roses were used throughout the house and on the generously loaded table and where an elaborate chicken pie dinner was served.

Covers were laid for a dozen people, the party including only relatives of the complimented guest.

NEW GROCERY STORE TO OPEN AUGUST FIRST

R. W. and F. M. Binkley, former owners of the Union Grocery, after being out of business for almost a year, are preparing to open a new grocery store about the first of August. The new store will be in the corner room of the new Meyers building, Third and Spurgeon streets. The firm name will be Binkley Bros., and they will carry a complete stock of everything that goes with the grocery business.

The Messrs. Binkley are well known grocers. They conducted the Union Grocery successfully for seven years, selling out only for the purpose of taking a much needed rest. After almost a year of leisure they find that a greater degree of contentment can be had in active business.

STAMPED CATTLE WERE NOT DOYLE'S

The fifteen head of cattle that broke loose at El Modena and scattered a crowd of people did not belong to Thomas Doyle, who has the cattle lease in the Santiago canyon, as was at first reported. They belonged to Sterling Price of Bolsa, and were being driven from Doyle's ranch, where they had been in pasture, to Bolsa, by some Bolsa riders.

At Conference Trustees Take Steps That May Settle Controversy

Saturday afternoon a conference was held by the City Trustees of Santa Ana at which steps were taken that seem likely to bring the Fourth street controversy to an end.

The Pacific Electric wants the right to build a curve around the northwest corner of Fourth and Main street to accommodate the travel of Los Angeles cars to Orange. The city trustees have been holding out for binding assurances that the P. E. will build an extension of its East Fourth street line to the city limits. A franchise proposal allowing the curve was submitted by the P. E., but the city trustees would not accept it for several reasons.

At the conference Saturday afternoon a committee was selected to draw up a franchise proposal that the city believes will be acceptable to both the P. E. and the city. The controversy seems to be in a fair way for final settlement within the next week or two.

REAL ESTATE BOARD WILL CONSULT CITY

Orange News: A settlement of the difficulties of the real estate men and the city in regard to the payment of the real estate licenses was forecast yesterday at a meeting of the realty board, when it was decided to send representatives before the city board in an attempt to reach an understanding concerning the license question.

A number of members of the realty board refused to pay the $15 annual license, payable July 1, when the city collector made his rounds this month. They claimed that they had not been given the protection for which they were paid, in that some dealers were not required to take out a license and that others were allowed to solicit in the plaza. They said that the ordinance could not be enforced and were for standing still if the city made an effort to collect.

A meeting of the realty board was held yesterday to further consider the subject and it was finally decided to hold a conference with the trustees to find out whether different arrangements could be made concerning the license, which a majority of the dealers consider too high. The plan of sending representatives before the city council was then adopted.

Sec'y Daniels Orders Summary Dismissal if Desertion is in Times of Peace

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Abolition of imprisonment for desertion from the navy in times of peace was ordered yesterday by Secretary Daniels. Under the new regulations, bluejackets who overstay their leave or commit similar breaches of discipline, will be summarily dismissed instead of being sent to prison, while men who become dissatisfied with the service and want to quit may have an honorable discharge by merely refunding certain enlistment allowances.

This radical departure from traditional naval methods has been under consideration by the secretary ever since he came into office. He announced today that the navy now had practically a full quota—51,348 enlisted men—compared with a shortage of more than 4000, eighteen months ago, and that the time to take the step had come.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

The Story of "Nearer, My God, to Thee." By Rev. Francis Watry, Pastor
Unitarian Church, Santa Ana.

"Nearer, My God, to Thee" is one of our most popular hymns. It has brought more consolation, courage and cheer to people in hard and dark experiences of life than any other hymn. Nor has any other hymn a more interesting history.

The author, Mrs. Sarah Flower Adams, was born at Cambridge, England, on February 22, 1805. Her father, Benjamin Flower, was a distinguished journalist, a bold and independent thinker. Her mother was a woman of superior ability and attainments. Early in life she manifested a remarkable taste for literature, and exhibited unusual talents for composition and verse-making. At a time when it was little less than a crime to profess the Unitarian faith she became a member of a Unitarian church in London, of which the Rev. W. J. Fox was minister. In this faith she lived and died.

Her fame as an author rests upon the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee." But she also wrote several other hymns, and is the author of a "Catechism for Children," and of a dramatic poem on the beautiful story of Vivian Perpetua, who suffered martyrdom under Septimius Severus in the year 202 of our era.

In 1841 her pastor, Rev. W. J. Fox, who, by the way, was a member of Parliament, an author, an editor and a minister, published a hymn-book, "Hymns and Anthems." To this collection Mrs. Adams contributed a number of hymns, among which were: "Part in Peace: Is Day Before Us"; "He Sendeth Sun, He Sendeth Shower," "Gently Fall the Dew of Eve," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

It was not long before "Nearer, My God, to Thee," found its way across the Atlantic. A hymn-book, compiled for the use of the Church of the Disciples (Unitarian) in Boston, published in 1844, was the first in this country to contain the hymn. It did not find its way so quickly into the hymn-books of the orthodox churches. "Hymns and Anthems," of the Presbyterian church, published about this time, does not contain it. Nor is it in the Hymnal of the Methodist Episcopal church, published in 1850. Nor is it to be found in "The Psalmist," a Baptist hymnal, compiled by Stow and Smith, and published in 1854. How are we to account for the absence of this beautiful hymn from these hymn-books? I prefer not to think along at this point.

But somehow, like all good things, it could not remain in obscurity. "The Plymouth Collection," compiled by Henry Ward Beecher in 1855, contains our hymn, and from this time on it is found in the hymnals of several denominations, but not without alterations and amendments. And why were these changes considered necessary? Evidently because of what was thought to be its bad theology. And, indeed, from an evangelical point of view its theology is, to say the least, not satisfactory. The author believed, like all her fellow-believers, that there were but two great factors in the moral and religious universe—God and the human soul. It was her deep and lasting conviction that the experiences of life, bravely and courageously faced and rightly lived, would unfailingly lead mankind onward and upward, ever "Nearer, My God, to Thee." It is this faith, trying to express itself in words, that gave us this hymn.

The charges that were brought against the hymn in those days were that it does not teach the doctrine of the Trinity, and utterly disregards the mediatorial work of "God the Son," through whom alone man could approach nearer to God. These charges are true, no doubt. Nor did it require any very acute critic to detect them. The theme of the hymn is undoubtedly this: God and the human soul. Men and women rising up to the nearer presence of God through the hard and rough experiences, the crosses of life, the common tasks and duties of every common day—these things are plainly not in accord with the creeds that teach that the way up to heaven is through "faith in the blood of Christ," through the cross, and not merely through a cross. And so it was quite natural that these earnest and devoted people should regard the hymn as dangerous, undermining and destroying the Christian faith. So it could not be admitted unless it were first amended and altered so as to make it at least harmless.

The first change was made in 1851 by a clergyman of the Church of England, Rev. A. T. Russell. He cut off the last stanza, and in its place put this:

"Christ alone beareth me
Where thou dost shine;
Join him he maketh me
Of the Divine!
In Christ my soul shall be,
Nearest, my God, to Thee—
Nearest to Thee."

This was intended to correct the fundamental idea of the hymn. But in accordance with the law of the survival of the fittest, this amendment never got beyond its cradle.

A few years later another change appears in the hymnal of another denomination. Lines three and four of the first stanza—

"'E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me," are changed into
"Though by thy bitter cross
We raised be."

This plainly contradicts the original. Not a cross, as the author would have it, but the cross of Christ is made the only way to heaven. The author's thought is that anything that makes life painful and difficult, maybe a hard and bitter task, disappointment or loss—by bravely bearing these crosses with an abiding trust in God we rise heavenward.

The next change was made by one Kennedy, author of a hymn-book, in 1863. He cuts off the last stanza and puts in its place:

"And, when my Lord again
Glorious shall come,
Mine be a dwelling-place
In Thy bright home;
There evermore to be
Nearer to Thee, my God!
Nearer to Thee!"

In the "Daily Service Hymnal" by Skinner, published in 1864, another change occurs by simply adding this stanza to the original:

Glory, O God, to Thee;
Glory to Thee,
Almighty Trinity
In Unity;
Glorious Mystery,
Through all Eternity
Glory to Thee!"

In another hymnal, published at Philadelphia in 1867, we find some minor changes which are, however, "significant" of much, as Carlyle would say. "Though like a wanderer" is changed to "Though a lone wanderer." "My rest a stone" is changed to "Pillowed on stone," evidently to remind one of Jacob's experience. "Steps unto heaven" is changed to "Steps up to heaven," the old idea of a heaven just above the bright blue sky.

Bishop Bickersteth, author of some beautiful hymns and compiler of hymn-books, did not like our hymn any too well. But it had become popular, and the good bishop knew the strength of public opinion. So he made no attempt at changing it, but added this note to the hymn in his hymn-book in 1876: "The editor shrunk from appending a closing verse of his own to a hymn so generally esteemed complete as this, or he would have suggested the following:

"There in my Father's house,
Safe and at rest,
There in my Saviour's love
Perfectly blest;
Age after age to be
Nearer, my God, to Thee.
Nearer to Thee."

These and a few other attempts at changing the original are now almost forgotten and no new ones are being tried. We all sing the good old hymn with one accord, and in the meantime forget our orthodoxy and our heterodoxy, remembering only that we are children of our Father who is in heaven. Some day the Christian world will place by the side of this hymn that other one by our own Dr. Hosmer, breathing the same child-like and affectionate trust in God:

One thought I have, my ample creed,
So deep it is and broad,
And equal to my every need,
It is the thought of God.

Each morn unfolds some fresh surprise,
I feast at life's full board;
And rising in my inner skies
Singles forth the thought of God.

At night my gladness is my prayer;
I drop my daily load,
And every care is pillowed there
Upon the thought of God.

I ask not far before to see,
But take in trust my road;
Life, death and immortality
Are in my thought of God.

To this their secret strength they owe,
The martyr's path who trod;
The fountains of their patience flowed
From out their thought of God.

Be still the light upon my way,
My pilgrim staff and rod,
My rest by night, my strength by day,
O blessed thought of God.

1500 SURGEONS OF UNITED STATES AND CANADA IN LONDON

LONDON, July 27.—Although America is admittedly far in advance of the rest of the world in the general science of carving the human body, 1500 eminent surgeons of the United States and Canada have come to London to learn some new things in which British members of the profession are said to excel. For the first time in history the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America is meeting in a foreign country, having accepted the invitation of a delegation of British surgeons at the Chicago convention last year to hold its fifth annual session in this city.

At the opening meeting tonight the delegates will be formally welcomed by Sir Rickman J. Godlee, chairman of the London committee, and by United States Ambassador Page, and will listen to an address by the retiring president, Dr. George E. Brewer, of New York. During the next five days the visitors will be given opportunity of an intimate study of the latest British clinical methods at demonstrations to be conducted in the various London hospitals, of which there will be an average of twenty a day. General sessions will be held each evening at the Savoy and Cecil hotels at which papers will be read and discussed by the foremost surgeons of both England and America.

A WEST ANAHEIM RANCHER IS INJURED

Anaheim Herald: D. Bobst, a rancher living in West Anaheim, was injured on Tuesday morning while working at his pump plant. The previous day the belt running from the engine to the pump had been tightened and in the morning was so tight that it ran high on the pulley. Mr. Bobst was afraid that it might cause trouble and attempted to hold it down on the pulley with an iron rod. The rod caught in the belt and threw Mr. Bobst to the ground, causing him to be insensible for a few minutes. He was soon able to reach the engine and stop it. A physician was called and the injured man was given proper attention. Upon examination it was found that no bones were broken but quite a good deal of pain was caused by the severe bruises.

IN ONE MINUTE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN—GOLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Stops Nasty Discharge, Clears Stuffed Head, Heals Inflamed Air Passages and You Breathe Freely.

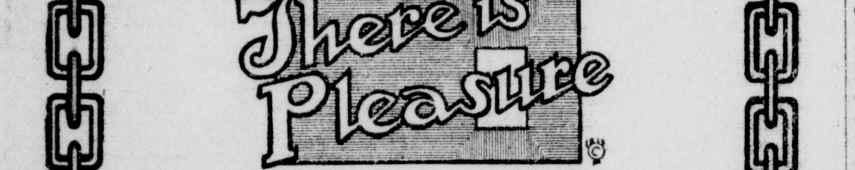

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foal mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertise-ment

AGAIN STATE ROAD MUST BE A GOOD ONE

Representatives of State Highway Commission Here Today

Today at noon N. D. Darlington, a member of the State Highway Commission, A. B. Fletcher, chief engineer of the commission, and W. L. Clark, division engineer of the commission, arrived in Santa Ana on their way over the state highway to San Diego. This morning they made an inspection of the concrete base that has been laid in Orange county between the county line at La Habra and Santa Ana, concerning which there has been a great deal of adverse criticism. On arriving here they stated to W. A. Zimmerman and others that the state will not accept anything except good work, and that whatever defects there are in the road will have to be made good before the road is accepted or wearing surface put on. Their declarations were in accordance with the declarations made in letters to Chief Engineer S. H. Finley of the County Highway Commission and to J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county.

This afternoon Darlington, Fletcher and Clark are holding a conference at the offices of the County Highway Commission with County Highway Commissioners D. C. Pixley, R. J. McFadden and W. T. Newland and Engineer Finley, who were appointed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce as a special committee to take whatever steps were found necessary to impress upon the state commission the necessity of having the concrete base already laid in this county repaired before the road is accepted. A representative of the state commission will be at the meeting of the Associated Chambers at Buena Park on Wednesday night. The state commission will assure the people at that time that the work is being carefully watched, and that nothing but first-class work will be accepted by the state.

CANDIDATE MAKES FLYING TRIP HERE

W. C. Ralston of San Francisco, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made a flying trip through Orange county today. Mr. Ralston had intended to speak in Santa Ana this evening but his plans miscarried to some extent and he decided to confine his campaigning in this county to personal calls on leading Republicans.

He was accompanied by C. W. Fleming of Los Angeles, and after a few hours in making calls in this city proceeded to Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT SPEAKING FOR FRIEND GETS HIM STABBED

Victim in Hospital With Six Knife Wounds—Assailant Jailed

The next time Jose Maria Castellano hears someone cursing an absent friend he will be just a little slow about taking it up. Jose undertook the defense of a friend yesterday afternoon, and as a consequence Jose is in the hospital with a knife wound through his breast, one in his left arm and four in his back, some of the wounds being into his lungs. Diedad Rodriguez, who did the cutting, is in jail.

Jose lived at Joe Argott's house at Dyer. Rodriguez and Trajino Juarez arrived yesterday from Chino, seeking work in the beet fields. They said they had an appointment with Argott, a beet contractor. They went to Argott's house east of Nicolas' store at Dyer, and because Argott was not there they began to curse him.

Jose did not relish the language used toward his friend and he invited the two men to get out of the house. They went with him to the road, and suddenly Rodriguez dashed at him with a knife. After stabbing Jose, Rodriguez fled.

Under Sheriff Law and Deputy Dean were called. Law found Juarez at the Wilson flats on East First, and Dean and Officer Vestal caught Rodriguez, who was covered with blood, as he was walking north on the Santa Fe tracks near Fourth street.

While Jose is badly injured, it is believed that he will live.

Set for August 4 This morning John W. Alexander, charged with the murder of his half-brother, Reese, at Buena Park, was arraigned before Justice Cox. The preliminary examination was set for August 4. Attorney Tarver appeared for Alexander.

AT THE COURT HOUSE REGISTRATION OVER 18,000

County Clerk Received Many New Names Saturday Night

The decision of County Clerk Williams to keep his office open Saturday afternoon and Saturday night up to midnight resulted in the registration of a large number of voters who otherwise would have been unable to vote at the primaries on August 25. Many of the candidates were out hustling among their friends to see if they were all registered, and as a consequence, a large number of persons visited the courthouse as late as 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Registration closed at midnight Saturday night. Williams and his deputies have been hard at work segregating the registrations and transferring into precincts, and as yet the total registration has not been figured out. The indications are that the total will be between 18,200 and 18,500. The last count was on July 7, at which time the total was 16,487.

COL. BULGER IS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Soldier of Fortune Reaches Sad Climax of His Varied Career

DENVER, July 27.—On the charge of murdering Lloyd K. Nicodemus, proprietor of the Savoy hotel here, "Colonel" James C. Bulger, soldier of fortune, went on trial here today. It was expected attorneys for the defense would enter a plea of temporary insanity resulting from overindulgence in drink.

The shooting for which Bulger is facing trial occurred in the Savoy hotel on the afternoon of May 6. Bulger and associates had made the hotel their headquarters while they recruited a regiment to be known as "Bulger's Rangers" whose services had been tendered to President Wilson by Senator Shafroth for use in Mexico.

Overwork and worry had driven Bulger to heavy drinking, and during the afternoon of May 6 he quarreled with a cowboy from Wyoming named Hugh Clark. Bulger threatened to kill Clark and went to his room for a revolver. Clark, who is a giant, disarmed Bulger and beat him severely. After more drinks, Bulger purchased two revolvers expressing a determination to kill Clark. When he returned to the Savoy and could not locate the cowboy he entered Nicodemus' office and shot him down, without provocation. Nicodemus lived twenty-four hours.

Since the Spanish war in 1898 "Colonel" Bulger has been engaged most of the time in furthering revolutions in Mexico and Central America. He served under Madera against Diaz and in nearly every uprising in the Central American states. Several years ago, with money made during one of his revolutionary exploits, he purchased a big tract of land in northern Colorado and established the town of Bulger.

The town had streets, avenues, lights, street signs reading "Look out for the cars," stores and a depot before it had any population or even a railroad. Railroad officials put the tracks through Bulger, but established their stations two miles away. Recently all the buildings of the town were moved nearer the railroad station and Bulger sold the townsite for $1.
